
POSITION POSTING

POSITION: PRODUCTION WORKER, BENCH ASSEMBLY
REPORTS TO: FOREMAN, SHEET METAL & ASSEMBLY

RESPONSIBILITIES & DUTIES:

- Works in Bench Assembly Department.
 - Manufactures components using various hand tools, including chop saw, drill press, air rivets, air drill, air sander, spot welder, jigsaw.
 - Assembles components of chambers and rooms.
 - Installs electrical components into cabinets and rooms.
 - Reads engineering drawings and schematics.
 - Provides training for other employees.
 - Other duties as assigned.
-

SKILLS & ATTRIBUTES REQUIRED:

- High degree of mechanical aptitude.
 - Ability to install and assemble cabinets and install internal components using hand and air tools, with minimal additional training.
 - Ability to interpret and apply blueprints and shop drawings.
 - Ability to move and lift materials and assemblies of various sizes and weights up to 100 lbs, bend, reach and twist, occasionally climb stepladders, and remain standing for up to 10 hours per day.
 - Ability to work as part of a team.
-

EXPERIENCE REQUIRED:

- Experience in component assembly or repair considered an asset.
 - Experience with sheet metal and/or wood shop equipment is an asset.
-

POSITION DURATION AND SCHEDULE:

- Permanent Position
 - Current work schedule is Monday to Thursday, 40 hours/week.
-

RATE OF PAY:

- Class "B"
 - Starting rate is $10.72 per hour.
-

START DATE: When successful candidate available.

Applicants should submit their resume to hr@conviron.com, to the attention of Judy, referencing "Bench Assembly."

We are committed to Employment Equity and provide a fair and equitable environment. We encourage applications from qualified women, men, visible minorities, aboriginal peoples, and persons with disabilities.